

ORDER MORE TROOPS TO MEXICAN BORDER

Reports of Spread of Anti-American Feeling Continue to Pour In

BANDITS RAID RANCH

Officials Give Impression of Having Reason to Believe Serious Purpose Was Behind Raid

THREE BANDITS ARE KILLED

WASHINGTON, June 12.—With 1,500 additional regular troops ordered to the Mexican border tonight and reports of the rapid spread of anti-American feeling continuing to pour in from consuls all over Northern Mexico administration officials made no attempt to disguise their uneasiness. It was officially announced that there is growing alarm over what the agitation may produce and the possibility of an attack on General Pershing's expedition. No case of attack on the persons of American residents in Mexico has been reported, although there have been one or two attacks on vacant consulates and other American property. Part of the increasing apprehension here is due to the renewed raids in the Laredo region. Several reports dealing with the situation there have been received. Officials declined to reveal details, but they gave the impression of having reason to believe a serious purpose was behind the Landit raid on the Coleman ranch. Three raiders were killed and three captured, one report said, adding that they attempted to burn a railroad bridge near Laredo, but failed.

To Fill Gaps in Border Guard

The few forces sent to join General Funston's border patrol, Secretary Baker said was to fill in gaps in the guard such as that near Laredo. It will be composed of ten companies of coast artillery and a battalion of engineers. The artillerymen will be withdrawn from fortifications between Portland, Me., and Sandy Hook, and the engineers go from barracks in this city. The secretary said there was no present intention of calling out additional national guard regiments for border duty.

General Mann, commanding at Laredo, reported today that a patrol of three cavalrymen were fired on during the night of June 10th, near the town of Hachita, and Private W. L. Saunders, Troop K, 12th cavalry, slightly wounded. Two mounted Mexicans did the firing and escaped. A message from Captain Burrage, commanding the battleship Nebraska at Vera Cruz, said there was considerable unrest in that region due apparently to the currency situation. There were no evidences of unfriendliness toward Americans the message said. It added that the Carranza government had been sending troops and ammunition inland. Captain Burrage did not know the object of these troop movements.

The state department thru special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City has called the attention of the de facto government to the anti-American outbreaks which for nearly two weeks have been spreading steadily. Many towns have held mass meetings and protested against the continued presence of American troops in Mexico. In two or three instances American property has been attacked but no threats against lives of Americans have been reported. The reports of consuls telling of the agitation were turned over to the Carranza officials more as a matter of information than as representations. Where his regular troops are in control, apparently General Carranza has earnestly tried in that case to prevent the holding of protest meetings and in some places contemplated meetings and parades have been prevented. There are instances, however, where the troops appeared to have stood idly by while the agitators stirred up antagonism against the United States. Because of economic conditions in Mexico officials feel that the possibility of serious trouble is enhanced. The currency situation is acute and the people are restless and easily stirred to outbreaks. Several consular agents have frankly declared in their reports that any eventually might be expected if the agitation continued to spread.

Lansing at Work on Reply
Secretary Lansing still is at work on his reply to the Carranza note demanding withdrawal of American forces. He again declined today to discuss it in any respect. The Carranza troops have repulsed the new rebel movement in the Tehuantepec region, according to today's advices. The rebels have been driven from the town of Tehuantepec captured last week and no longer are threatening Salina Cruz, the Pacific terminal of the railway.

State department reports indicate that Carranza's control over certain state governors is waning. The governors have issued decrees and even currency without the authority or approval of the central government. While no new appeal to American

LAMBERT GIRL'S CHUM TESTIFIES AT TRIAL

GIRL TALKS SIMPLY, DIRECTLY AND WITH STUDIED PRECISION

Admits There were Times During the Winter When Miss Lambert Did Not Appear to Have Her Usual Vivacity—E. O. Orpet Concludes Testimony.

Waukegan, Ill., June 12.—Josephine Davis, chum of Marion Lambert, the school girl for whose alleged murder February 10th, Will H. Orpet is on trial here, testified today.

Miss Davis, altho still a school girl, talked simply, directly and with studied precision both as to fact and expression.

"When did you first meet Marion Lambert?" asked State's Attorney Ralph Dady.

"When I was in the eighth grade," she responded.

She did not become the intimate of Marion until "third year high school," she explained again.

Miss Davis had been regarded as peculiarly a state's witness and she was called to the stand by Mr. Dady, but it developed that for the last six weeks she had been living with friends in Chicago and had declined to see him. The reason did not appear. She was questioned on direct examination by David R. Joslyn, who is assisting Mr. Dady. James H. Wilkerson, chief of counsel for the defense, complained to the court of what he called Joslyn's harshness to the girl and gave other evidence of desiring to protect the witness. Her testimony differed but slightly from that told at the inquest and later before the grand jury but in one slight respect it did, and Mr. Joslyn's alleged harshness developed over this charge.

Before the grand jury she testified that at all times Miss Lambert seemed full of the highest spirits. Today she admitted there were times during the winter when, altho not despondent, she did not appear to have her usual vivacity.

"Do you mean to say that you remember better now, after four months, than you did three days after Miss Lambert's death?" demanded Mr. Joslyn.

"Yes," the girl answered quietly. "As I have thought a good deal about it things have come to me that I did not recall at the time."

The girls spent the night of Feb. 9th, at the Lambert home and Marion answered the telephone call said to have come from Orpet arranging for the meeting next morning in Helm's woods. Miss Davis testified that her chum planned to go to a party and besides her school books on the morning of Feb. 10th, carried a bundle containing a white skirt and an apron as she was to assist in serving refreshments.

At the interurban station Miss Davis said Miss Lambert suddenly remarked that she had no recitation periods during the forenoon and, giving the bundle to Miss Davis and promising to meet her later at school went to Helm's woods. E. O. Orpet, father of the defendant, concluded his testimony in the forenoon. Dr. E. R. Lacout testified to making an autopsy on the body of Miss Lambert.

"There was nothing to indicate that she ever was enceinte," said the doctor.

The court room was crowded with spectators, largely women, some of whom came in their automobiles from the big country estates along the north shore, and some from farms in their "rigs." As soon as the forenoon crowd left court room at noon recess another crowd, to make certain of gaining entrance, took up positions at the door and waited the hour and a half until the doors were again opened.

cans to leave Mexico has been made it is known that consuls are using every effort to induce them to depart. It is estimated that 5,000 Americans still are beyond the border, 1,000 in Mexico City, 2,000 in Tampico region and the others scattered in various places.

Bandit Wore Carranza Uniform

Laredo, Texas, June 12.—One of the three Mexican bandits killed today in the chase of outlaws who raided the T. A. Coleman ranch near Laredo last night, wore a Carranza uniform bearing the insignia of a Carranza lieutenant colonel, according to a message received here tonight. One of the bandits taken prisoner identified the body at Webb, Texas, this afternoon as Lieutenant Colonel Villareal, of the Carranza army.

Interest attaches tonight to the whereabouts of Captain Ola W. Bell and his detachment of the fourteenth United States cavalry pursuing bandits who during the past 48 hours have made several raids in the border section west and northwest of Laredo. The raids have resulted in the loss of several horses stolen from Texas ranchers and the death of at least three Mexican bandits and the capture of two. Reports early tonight were vague and it was not known here whether troops or civilian possees killed the three bandits. No American casualties have been reported.

The bandits, variously reported to number from eleven to fifteen included several Japanese.

DEMOCRATS EXPECT TO GAIN RECRUITS

Leaders Set Great Store on Desertion of Progressives By Roosevelt

ONLY ONE LIVE TOPIC

Blythe States that Boosting of Candidates for Vice-President is Merely By Way of Diversion

OLD TICKET WILL BE NAMED

(By Samuel G. Blythe)
(Copyright, 1916, by Central Press Association.)

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—Judging from the remarks dropped here and there in St. Louis today, the United States never before had so many perferively patriotic friends as this great and glorious republic has at the present moment.

Wear Flags on Coats.

We are all Americans apparently and to make it good, Roger Sullivan is wearing a red, white and blue shirt. Tom Taggart has shaved off his mustache, to give it closer resemblance to G. Washington, and it is rumored that Charles F. Murphy has old glory in colors, tattooed on his manly chest. The bands play the Star Spangled Banner continuously; the flags, the delegates and visitors to the Democratic National convention wear on their coats are not tiny flags, but are half as big as handkerchiefs; and the favorite anthem is America uber Republicans—America, of course, typifying the assembled Democrats and the folks who represent them in Washington and the folks back home whom they represent.

There is no gainsaying the fact that America is a most popular country with all of her assembled and it is also, beyond peradventure, that if the Republicans think they can get away with the "My Country 'Tis of Thee" stuff, with the accent on the "my," they are a victim of a delusionary amor patriae, as Colonel Bill Sapp of Kansas said to Cato Herculaneum Hellas. Not alone to prove the Sapp latinity, but also to let the world know that Americanism has no regular habitat in the Republican party, but abides in and with the Democrats as well.

Nothing Doing for Pacifists.

It begins to look as if there were a tinge of America first in this campaign. Nothing is heard of propitiating any other nationality whatsoever, nor was anything heard of that at Chicago. To be sure, they will be extremely tender and considerate of the woman suffragists and will tread lightly in the vicinity of the prohibitionists; but there will be nothing doing for the pacifists, unless, perchance, Mr. Bryan manages to plant a pacific seed somewhere in the receptive and versatile soil of the platform, which is unlikely. Malapropos of the nomination of Mr. Hughes, the honorable William Joel Stone rushed out a statement expressing great and aggrieved surprise over the Republican crime in flinging a candidate from the bench of the United States court, the horrible, not to say horrendous, atrocity against the sanctity of the courts thus committed, and sternly rebuking the Republicans for their lack of respect for this sacrosanct institution thus despoiled and degraded, as he said; but forgetting, apparently, that it is in this very town of St. Louis, in 1904, when the Democrats committed the said high crime and misdemeanor by extracting the Hon. Alton B. Parker from a court of high degree extracting Mr. Parker, but going no further with the enterprise, as the returns showed, likewise, there was a published remark by the Hon. Champ Clark, that President Wilson is fortunate in his opponents and that was a bit reminiscent of 1912 and Baltimore.

Must Learn Part of "America"

However, we are all Americans. That is a definite thing and the flag-makers may well pluck up heart, for this campaign will be a flag waving one from start to finish. It is reported that the Democratic National Committee has even gone so far as to insist that the delegates and alternates to the convention shall learn the first stanza of "America" in order that they may be able to sing the words instead of mumbling the tune at the opening session of the proceedings and how, I ask you, could political Americanism go further than that?

There is but one live topic for discussion and that is not live enough to be more than perisflagious. I refer to the nomination for the vice presidency. It is interesting to observe what intense interest can be aroused over a Vice Presidential nomination when a presidential nomination is clamped securely to a certain

War News Summarized
Heavy fighting is in progress over virtually the entire eastern front from the gulf of Riga to Bukovina, a distance of between 600 and 700 miles. From Riga to the Jasiolda river, northwest of the Pripiet marsh region, the Germans have taken the offensive against the Russians, probably in an effort to divert the attention of the Russians who are in second week of their drive against the Austro-Hungarians and Germans from the Pripiet marshes southward to Bukovina. On all sectors of the northern line the Russians have successfully withstood the German onslaughts and driven the attacking forces back. They have even gained ground against them north of the Tirul marsh, southwest of Riga, says Petrograd.

Russ Report Fresh Advances.
In southwest Russia in the region of Lutsk, fresh advances against the Austro-Hungarians are reported by the Russian war office, as likewise is the case across the border thru east Galicia. In the southern part of this region the Russians are nearing Czernowitz, the capital of the Austrian crownland of Bukovina.

Altho the Austrians at numerous points are vigorously counter-attacking, the only place the Russians have been forced to give ground before them was near Bobulintz, north of Bucacz in Galicia, where the Austrians were reinforced by German troops. The Russians captured here by the Teuton allies exceeded 1300. The total of men taken prisoner by the Russians since their offensive began has grown to more than 114,000.

French Repulse Assaults.
Northeast of Verdun the Germans with heavy effectives have thrown successive attacks against the French positions north of Thiaumont, but all the assaults were repulsed with serious losses. The heavy bombardment by the Germans in this region extended from Thiaumont eastward to the west and south of Fort Vaux and to the French second line positions of Fort Souville and Fort Tannes, about three miles northeast of Verdun.

On the remainder of the front in France and Belgium there have been only artillery duels and sapping operations, except in Champagne where Berlin reports the penetration of French positions and the capture of more than one hundred men and four machine guns.

Italians Drive Austrians Back.
South and southeast of Trent the Italians are continuing to drive back the Austrians according to Rome. Gains have been made by the Italians in the Arsa valley and the Pausubio sector, along the Posina-Astico line and southwest of Asiago. Farther north in the Sugana valley fresh progress toward the Maso torrent is reported for King Victor Emmanuel's men who repelled two counter attacks near Sorelle. In the Lagarina Valley the Austrians are heavily bombarding the Italians on Conie Zugna.

Annihilate Russ Cavalry Force.
A Russian cavalry force of 1,000 men operating between the Caucasus and Mesopotamia fronts has been annihilated by the Turks who also captured a large amount of war material, according to Constantinople.

On the remainder of the front in Asiatic Turkey there is no change in the situation. The masking of important Belgium troop movements is believed to be connected with the closing of the Bulgar-Rumanian frontier to passenger and merchandise traffic says an unofficial despatch from Bucharest.

TESTIFY STANDARD OIL COMPANY
DOMORALIZED THE OIL INDUSTRY
WASHINGTON, June 12.—Independent oil jobbers testified today before the federal trade commission that the Standard Oil company had demoralized the oil industry, and thru failure of the units of the company to compete in each other's field had jeopardized the existence of independent jobbers and refiners. They declared that arbitrary high prices set by the Standard Oil of Ohio and Eastern States had diverted the flow of oil from the independent refineries of the middle west until the independent jobbers of the west where a lower retail price is set by the Standard Oil company of Indiana, were no longer able to buy crude oil at prices which would permit them to compete with the Standard company. The entire first day of the commission's hearing here, will conclude an exhaustive inquiry into the rise of gasoline prices and was taken up with the testimony of independent jobbers. When the independents have finished standard oil representatives are expected to give their explanations of the increases and to reply to the charges of price fixing.

MEDICS GATHER IN DETROIT
Detroit, Mich., June 12.—Fifteen thousand doctors, ranging from noted specialists to country practitioners, and coming from all parts of the country, assembled in Detroit today for the annual convention of the American Medical Association, the sessions of which will continue thru the greater part of the week. The program for the initial session called for an address by the retiring president, Dr. Albert Van Derveer, of Albany, N. Y., and the installation and inaugural address of the new president, United States Surgeon-General Rupert Blue.

MAY ATTEMPT TO REPLACE MARSHALL

Morgenthau Announces That a "Stronger Man" Should Be Named

SUGGESTS SECY. BAKER

Bryan Does Not Expect to Precipitate Any Fight on the Party Platform

CRITICISES HUGHES' CHOICE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 12.—Anti-convention discussion centered largely today on moves and suggestions to defeat plans for the renomination of Vice-President Marshall and put a new man on the ticket with President Wilson. As the number of delegates to the Democratic national convention grew hourly greater booms for various favorite sons appeared on the surface to rise and fall with the tide of talk.

Morgenthau Wants Baker
A move to defeat Vice-President Marshall for renomination took well defined form and substance when Henry Morgenthau, who recently gave up his post as ambassador to Turkey that he might engage in the work of re-electing President Wilson announced that a "stronger man" than Marshall should be named and brought forward Secretary of War Newton Baker of Cleveland to run with President Wilson.

Booms for new candidates for vice-president still appeared hourly the last one to come to notice tonight being one for Judge A. M. Jackson of Winfield, Kans. The delegation from Kansas is to arrive tomorrow.

Expect Two to Withdraw
The Nebraska delegation is instructed as a unit for Governor John H. Moorehead for the vice-presidency but it was reported today that when Governor Moorehead reaches St. Louis tomorrow he will agree to renounce his candidacy conditioned upon the withdrawal of the candidacy of Roger Sullivan of Illinois. As Mr. Sullivan has never seriously been a candidate for vice-president, his name being brought forward by Illinois friends simply with the desire to pay the state leader a compliment, it appeared to leaders tonight an agreement with Governor Moorehead could be reached. William J. Bryan does not expect to precipitate any fight on the party platform. That was the information brought here tonight by a close friend of the former secretary of state who asserted that Mr. Bryan might not after all go before the resolutions committee and that he would not make any effort to obtain a proxy that would seat him on the convention floor. Mr. Bryan is expected here late tonight or tomorrow when Senator Ollie James, President Wilson's choice for permanent chairman, Secretary of War Baker and other notable political leaders are due to arrive.

Criticizes Hughes' Nomination
Senator Stone, who is to be the chairman of the committee on resolutions issued a statement this afternoon in which he criticized the nomination of Justice Hughes by the Republican party as in every way bad and vicious. It was a dangerous experiment, he pointed out, for a great political party, hard pressed, to invade the supreme court and take down from the bench one of its justices to make him a candidate for political office to meet and serve a party exigency. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, with Secretary Morrison and other labor leaders, came in today bringing fourteen labor planks which they desire to have incorporated into the party platform. They will appear before the resolutions committee.

The national committee held a session today as a preliminary to the opening of the convention on Wednesday and formally arranged for the temporary organization. Former Governor Martin Glynn of New York was officially named as temporary chairman and the man who will start the convention and campaign with the "keynote" speech. Only one seat—that in the Hawaii delegation—among the 1,092 in the convention was contested before the committee. Two contests for places on the new national committee were deferred for decision by the new committee when it meets immediately after the final convention session.

PROGRESSIVE LEADERS
VISIT ROOSEVELT.
Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 12.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was visited at his home at Sagamore Hill today by James R. Garfield and Dean William Draper Lewis. According to his secretary, John W. McGrath, who returned from Chicago, the colonel "had a full and frank discussion" with Mr. Garfield and Dean Lewis as to what he intends to say, with regard to the political situation and the "time he should say it."

SEVERAL ARE HURT WHEN TRAIN
LEAVES RAILS; SLEEPER OVERTURNS
OWENSBORO, Ky., June 13.—Passenger train No. 145 on the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railway was wrecked three blocks from the Owensboro station early today. Three sleepers left the rails, one being destroyed by fire.

The Kentucky delegation to the Democratic convention at St. Louis, including Governor A. O. Stanley and former Governor McCreary was on the wrecked train.

A number of passengers in the sleepers were injured, but not seriously. That none were killed is remarkable, as one of the sleepers turned completely over. Governor Stanley, was in the sleeper that overturned but he was not injured. Mayor John H. Buschmeyer of Louisville, was sleeping in an upper berth and was thrown to the floor of the car. He was bruised but not otherwise hurt.

Spreading rails is said to have caused the wreck.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS IN OPTIMISTIC MOOD

HOPE IS HIGH THAT DEMOCRATS WILL RECOGNIZE EQUAL RIGHTS

Plank Will Not Be Inserted Without a Fight, However, Also Led by Women—Committee Will Probably Hear Women Wednesday.

St. Louis, June 12.—Hope was high in suffrage circles tonight that the Democratic national convention will incorporate an equal rights plank of some form in its platform. No official declaration of the convention's intention was forthcoming, for until the resolutions committee is appointed next Wednesday, there will be none to speak authoritatively as to what will be done with the proposed plank, but suffrage leaders regard the attitude of many Democratic leaders toward their cause as decidedly friendly.

Suffragists of all factions were busy today working among the more widely known Democrats and tonight with tentative arrangements made for a hearing on their demands, probably on Wednesday, they were in optimistic mood. A suffrage plank will not be inserted without a fight however, also led by women. Mrs. Arthur Dodge of New York, leader of anti-suffragist forces, is here to make a determined stand against any favorable mention of equal right in the platform.

National Chairman McCombs said tonight that she probably would be given the same amount of time to argue against suffrage as the suffragists will have for espousing it. The National American woman suffrage association and the congressional union and its auxiliary the woman's party will divide the time equally for the plank.

The two older suffrage organizations are striving for different ends. The Nationals want only a favorable declaration for suffrage in the platform, while the union and the woman's party desire immediate action by congress on the Susan B. Anthony amendment, now resting in the house judiciary committee. Nationals were elated tonight to receive a telegram from Senator Borah, a drafter of the Republican platform, declaring that document was intended to endorse equal suffrage unqualifiedly. No efforts will be spared to get Senator Borah's telegram before Democratic platform makers.

The telegram, received by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the Nationals, follows:

"Suffrage plank of the Republican platform is an unqualified endorsement of woman suffrage. It unmistakably favors the extension of suffrage to women and favors it as a matter of justice. This is not subject to possible ambiguity. The only question left open is that of the method of securing it. The plank recognizes the right of each state to settle the question itself, but it does not declare against the taking away of that right."

"It was my view at the time of the adoption of the amendment in the committee and is still my view that upon the question of the federal amendment the plank was silent and neither rejected it nor endorsed it."

REPRESENTATIVES OF RAILROADS AND UNIONS FAR FROM AGREEMENT

NEW YORK, June 12.—Representatives of the chief railroads of the United States and of the unions of railroad employees were far from an agreement on questions of wages and hours of work when an adjournment of their conference was taken late today. Upon the detailed explanation tomorrow of the roads of their counter or "contingent" proposition. It was predicted by A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, would depend the future attitude of the railroad men, even to the point of ordering a strike vote among the 350,000 members of the unions.

Mr. Garretson's prediction was prompted by the fact that during the day the conference came suddenly to a halt when the railroads "contingent" proposition, tentatively granting the demanded eight hour day but refusing double compensation for double service, was rejected.

HUGHES RE-ENTERS POLITICS WITH ZEST

Former Justice Establishes Temporary Headquarters in New York

ISSUES NO STATEMENT

Republican Nominee Expects to Give Out No Statement Until After Formal Notification

CONSIDER CAMPAIGN PLANS

NEW YORK, June 12.—Charles E. Hughes re-entered politics today apparently with abundant zest, he reached this city early in the day, established temporary headquarters at an uptown hotel and virtually held open house until nearly midnight. Scores of persons on various missions flocked to his rooms, mostly men who knew him in the days when he was campaigning for governor of New York. There also were several party leaders among his callers.

Issues No Statement.
Mr. Hughes issued no statement today and expects to issue none until he is formally notified of his nomination.

The sub-committee to confer with him as to fixing a date for the ceremony probably will wait on him in a few days and until then, it is understood he will allow his telegram to Chairman Harding of the Republican national convention to stand as his declaration of principles without further comment.

To those who knew the nominee as a supreme justice there was a marked change in his bearing today. His air of studious reserve apparently left him with the robes of office. His eye sparkled with enjoyment, he had a hearty hand grasp and a smile for every man he met and seemed enthusiastic in his welcome of old friends, who came to see him after intervals of years.

Considers Campaign Plans.

Altho felicitations were numerous, there also was serious consideration of campaign plans. The chief affairs requiring the nominee's immediate attention are the selection of a national chairman, the opening of headquarters and deciding on a summer headquarters for himself. Several party leaders submitted suggestions on all three topics, all of which Mr. Hughes took under consideration. Attempts to obtain further expressions from Mr. Hughes as to his views on the issues of the day were unsuccessful and it was made plain to callers that there is no intention on his part to say anything concerning them until his formal notification. Where and when that will occur probably will be determined on before the week ends. Along with other questions upon which the nominee had nothing to say was an inquiry as to whether he had received any communication from Oyster Bay.

Party leaders among his callers seem to agree that the campaign would be started early. Mr. Parsons said that in his opinion the campaign already was on.

"It started Saturday," he said, "when Mr. Hughes sent his telegram to Chairman Harding."

How the Progressives will vote, whether Colonel Roosevelt will support Mr. Hughes, whether the colonel will take stump for him, to what extent failure of the Progressives to support Hughes would affect the election—these and kindred topics were the subject of much speculation on the part of Republican leaders who called. The opinion prevailed, that these questions might be answered in several days after the Progressive leaders have had an opportunity to confer at length.

Because of the press of political conferences, Mr. Hughes stated late today that he would not be able to take part in the preparedness parade at Washington on Wednesday. The Republican nominee had planned to march in the parade, in which President Wilson will participate.

WAR PICTURES AT AIRDOME

Manager Scott was fortunate yesterday in billing for appearance at the Airdome next Monday, June 19, "On the Firing Line with the Germans," said to be the greatest of all motion pictures of the conflict. This great picture is in nine reels and presents actual scenes at the front as taken by an artists with automobile and aeroplane. The well known dramatic critic, Kitty Kelly, in the Chicago Tribune, said, "There are war pictures and war pictures, but the blue ribbon goes to those taken by H. Duburrough." Some idea of the vividness of the portrayal can be seen in the following: the fall of Warsaw, the great seven-day battle, von Hindenburg's smashing drive, the Kaiser at the front, murderous machine gun fire, Zeppelin raid on Warsaw, fierce infantry assault, miles of terrific trench struggles, and desperate bayonet charges. For this great attraction the prices will be 10 and 20 cents, the lowest at which this picture has ever been shown.

Enlistments Few.

While the records are not at hand with reference to regular army enlistment in Chicago following the great preparedness parade, the history of parades in other cities has been that no marked effect on enlistment occurred. In New York following the parade in which 140,000 men and women took part there were only sixty-four men who enlisted in the army. A well known writer suggests that while a great many preparedness enthusiasts would be glad to become officers, few desire to be privates, and perhaps this is an American characteristic.

No Excuse for Gun Toting

The order from the police department to put a stop to "gun toting" is distinctly proper and enforced rigorously will do much toward ending the quarrels and affrays which result seriously. In this day and age there is absolutely no reason or excuse for a man other than an officer of the law to carry a concealed weapon. A weapon is not a protection from highwaymen. In fact, a pedestrian who attempts to draw a weapon if he is held up runs a great risk of being shot down. Weapons are not needed for defense against any sort of attack and the law which prohibits carrying of weapons should be strictly enforced. So the announced determination to give every "gun toter" the limit under the law is just what should be done and if followed out consistently it will rid this community of a number of "bad" men who are a menace to public safety. As a matter of fact it should be illegal to sell revolvers and weapons of that character, but since there is no such law, the next best thing is the enforcement of the provision against concealed weapons.

Quiet Campaign for Suffrage.

The thousands of suffragists who have planned a special demonstration for this week during the national Democratic convention in St. Louis, are in hopes that their noiseless demonstration will be as effective as smokeless gunpowder. Without demonstration other than spectacular it is the plan to marshal 20,000 women in cordons line around a way that arriving delegates must necessarily walk between the lines of women. They will be white robed, carry yellow parasols and plan to pass away the hours of waiting with knitting and other useful occupation. There will be no bands or noisy demonstrations, but the women will seek to impress the Democratic

PAYING UP

How lovely is that princely gent who never owes a man a cent, that he won't gladly pay; whose glance is not severe and chill, when you present your little bill upon collection day. He scans your little bill and cries, "It is a pleasure, bless your eyes, to deal with folk like you, who charge a reasonable price for shredded prunes and boneless rice, and other things we chew. Just wind a smile around your neck, while I add down and write a check, with my large fountain pen; you sold me good and honest junk, and I am glad to pay the plank, the kopeck and the yen." This man may be a homely skate, he may not wear his sideboards straight, his necktie may be red; he may have warts upon his ear, his awkward feet may interfere, and bald may be his head. But men will say he's quite in style; they'll praise the beauty of his smile, the contour of his nose; they'll overlook his features mean, and say, "We've really never seen a man with finer toes." No man is ugly when he haunts his bundle from his overalls, and blithely pays his bills, who pays the tailor for his duds, the washerwoman for her suds, the sawbones for his pills.

leaders, by their numbers and earnestness, of the need there is for inserting a suffrage plank in the Democratic platform.

The chances are good that the demonstration will have some effect, but the fact that the Republican convention recently inserted a plank favorable to woman suffrage will be likely to have more effect upon the Democrats than even the 20,000 women in uniform. But both of the old parties recognize that with women already having suffrage rights in a number of states and with recognition in prospect in other states, suffrage must be taken into account in the coming national campaign more than has ever before been true.

A New View on War and Business.

Henry Clews, New York banker, in his last weekly review of business, makes a point that the average business man has overlooked in considering the effect of the war upon business. The orders for munitions have put vast sums into circulation and have thus given an almost unheard of impetus to certain lines of manufactures, but in considering what effect a cessation of hostilities would have, Mr. Clews declares that a few stocks would be unfavorably affected, while the action on the larger number would be favorable. In substantiation of this claim he said that "this country has bought back a billion of its own best securities since the war began, and had it not been for this diversion, the bulk of all this capital would have gone to the development of home industries." Thus, he says, it has happened that the war has unbeknown to many deferred home enterprises, and that peace would, if nothing else interfered, lead to their resumption.

In further comment upon general business conditions, Mr. Clews says: "The crop situation is not entirely satisfactory. According to the Government report, the wheat crop is largely below last year's, the winter crops showing a loss of about 180,000,000 bushels, which is of course beyond repair. Some improvement may occur in spring wheat, but that is often only about one-third of the entire crop. There is a surplus of about 200,000,000 bushels left over from last year, so there should be no scarcity, but the world situation is such as to indicate good prices for growers. If we succeed in keeping out of the terrific waste of life and property in Europe, there is no reason why the country should not enjoy another season of widely distributed activity."

WOODMEN HELD IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICE

Deceased Brethren Honored Sunday Afternoon in M. W. A. Hall—W. F. Gilroy of Canton Made Address.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the M. W. A. held their annual memorial services in the Woodman hall on the south side of the square. The services were especially well attended, and many M. W. A. members as well as many Royal Neighbors were present to pay tribute to the deceased brothers. Before the meeting of this year it has been the custom to hold these services at the cemetery, but owing to the rainy weather it was decided to hold the services in the hall.

J. O. Priest, who acted as chairman of the meeting gave the call to order. The Sterling quartet, composed of Hiram Day, Uriel Goveia, Ernest Fernandes and Russell Oliver, rendered a beautiful number. Rev. Walter E. Spoons then offered the invocation, after which the roll of deceased brothers was read. This roll includes 146 members. Those who have passed away since the memorial service last June are: Robert Tilton, George Wolke, Valentine Martis and James Landreth. The quartet then gave another selection, and the address of the afternoon was given. Neighbor W. F. Gilroy of Canton, Ill., was the speaker, and he gave a most excellent address. The hall was decorated with flags and M. W. A. colors. On the grave of each of the deceased brothers a growing potted plant was placed. The members wish to thank the members of the quartet for their part in the program.

A. J. HARDING IS DEAD AT SOUTH JACKSONVILLE HOME

A. J. Harding passed away at 1:20 o'clock this morning at his home on South Main street. Mr. Harding was a well known resident of the county and just recently moved to the city from his farm 4-1/2 miles south of the city. A suitable obituary notice will appear later.

KILLED A GROUND HOG.

C. A. Rowe was showing to a number of persons yesterday a ground hog that was shot at his country home a mile northwest of Jacksonville. A great disturbance was heard among the chickens Sunday afternoon and a man in Mr. Rowe's employ found the animal hiding behind a log in the chicken yard and shot it with a revolver. While in the popular story about spring the ground hog makes at least an annual appearance, it is rare indeed to find one of the animals in this locality. The teeth and claws are something like those of an opossum but the animal is much larger. Mr. Rowe may possibly have it mounted.

Mrs. W. S. Jones has written Jacksonville friends that she, with her son and daughter, will soon leave Pasadena and return to their home in Jacksonville.

FUNERAL OF MRS. W. C. CIBBS HELD IN WINCHESTER MONDAY

Impressive Services at Baptist Church—Mrs. Mary Ann Evans—Dead—Richard Coultas' Funeral.

Winchester, Ill., June 12—The funeral of Mrs. William Craven Gibbs took place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Winchester Baptist church, with Rev. W. H. Breach of Canville in charge, assisted by the pastor, the Rev. D. H. Toomey. The large auditorium and Sunday school room were well filled with relatives and friends, gathered for this last tribute of silent respect. A quartet composed of Miss Louise Frost, Miss Martha Higgins, O. C. Robertson and George Hieronymus sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Rev. Mr. Toomey read the scripture lesson and an obituary sketch of Mrs. Gibbs. After a short prayer by the pastor, the quartet sang, "Asleep in Jesus." Rev. Mr. Breach preached a most eloquent sermon, describing with earnest words Mrs. Gibbs' noble Christian life, and referring to the high esteem in which he as a former pastor had always held her. At the close of his talk Rev. Mr. Breach sang "The Wings of Snow." The profusion of beautiful flowers were cared for by Mrs. S. W. Babb of Jacksonville. Mrs. Ida Vaniman, Springfield; Miss Tankersley, White Hall; Mrs. Frank Mason, Miss Irene McCullough and Miss Caroline Coultas.

Burial was made at Winchester cemetery. The bearers were Judge F. C. Funk, William Frost, Claude Thomas, D. T. Smith, E. N. Gilham, and W. B. Clark. Among those present from a distance to attend the services were Mrs. Woodberry Loud, Mrs. John Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Ida Vaniman, Springfield; William Tankersley and family, White Hall; Thomas Devine of Pueblo, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Coultas, Andrew Allen and family, Chapin.

Mrs. Mary Ann Evans died very suddenly Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock at her home in the northeast part of town. Mrs. Evans had been in poor health for several months and at the time of death was 73 years, 3 months and 21 days old. Mr. Evans passed away a number of years ago. The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. B. Hoots and Mrs. Wiley Jackson, and four sons, John Wesley Evans, Ora Evans, "Doc" Evans and Edward Evans. Funeral services will probably be held today the arrangements have not been completed, pending word from relatives.

Richard Coultas' Funeral

ain person as has been the case for very convention in the Democratic party, save the last one, since 1896, in reality the vice presidential nomination is similarly clamped to the spring form of T. Riley Marshall, but in order that something may be done there are various boosters for Roger Sullivan of Illinois; and Governor Major of Missouri, has active and ardent protagonist, including himself. These are by the way of diversion merely, for when it comes to the voting time, it will be observed that the politicians of the democratic-sentimental souls will get tremors in their voices and become misty in the rise and say one to another: "We must name the old ticket."

This is what will be done. Expect To Gain Recruits. Great store is set, among the leaders here, on the desertion of the Progressives by Col. Roosevelt and they expect to gain many recruits from the Progressive party who would have voted for Roosevelt, but who will vote for Wilson rather than for Hughes. No politics will be left upturned to get these Progressives. Now they have snares, traps and bird lime out for them in every direction. It is vividly recalled, that Mr. Wilson, running in 1912, obtained only forty-two percent of the total vote or a million and three hundred thousand less than Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt corralled. This year, provided Col. Roosevelt sulks in his Sagamore, the democrats must garner fifty one per cent properly distributed and the chiefest garnering places are New York, Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut. Hence there will be no ruffling of the feelings of any progressive who desires to use the Honorable Woodrow Wilson as his medium for registering his protest against Col. Roosevelt, Mr. Hughes, or whatever, at the moment he may have in mind protesting against. These democrats are using every lure for the progressives who are sore. They need them in their business.

The platform will come in for extended discussion. Many planks are being prepared for proposal and disposal.

Ardent patriots are here yammering for announcements on all sorts of subjects from Government ownership of the Department stores in order to hold the women vote to immediate war on Japan.

However, there is one plank that is not discussed. I refer to the plank that limits the nominee of the convention to a single term.

Richard Towers was given the contract for raising and moving the present building at a cost of $85. Capt. Mace said after the meeting that all motions were unanimously carried and that the work of the committee is moving along in an entirely harmonious way. All persons who make pledges to the special fund are urged to make early payment to the treasurer, W. G. Goebel.

INJURIES FROM ACCIDENT BROUGHT DEATH TO THOS. WOODSON

Man Who Was Crushed Beneath Wagon Wheels Died Sunday Morning—Inquest Held.

Iverson Thomas Woodson who was crushed under the wheels of a heavily loaded wagon Saturday afternoon died at Passavant hospital Sunday morning. Woodson suffered great pain from the time of the accident until his death and told those who picked him up immediately after the accident that he was going to die.

Coroner Wright was notified of the death of Woodson and empanelled a jury composed of Jerome Rollins, foreman, P. F. Dealy, Henry Davis, George Britton, James Matthews, and George Parker, clerk.

The jury heard the evidence of Dr. George Stacy who assisted Dr. W. H. Weirich in the examination of Woodson. The testimony of Patrolman Frank Baker who took Woodson to the hospital in the police department car, Howard Wannamaker and Walter Woodson, son of the deceased. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict that Woodson came to his death by a wagon which was heavily loaded passing across his body, a post mortem showing that death was due to shock occasioned by hemorrhage and peritonitis following crushing injury to the liver.

Deceased was 49 years old and had lived in Jacksonville for a number of years. At the time of death his home was on Ebey street. The remains were taken to Gillham's undertaking parlors and prepared for burial. The funeral will be held from Second Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

James Barnes read the class will which was also a fine effort.

Mrs. Joseph Lombard of Waverly was one of the shoppers in the city yesterday.

Mrs. A. J. Read and daughter, Mrs. Jack Harrington, of Rochester, Ill., were guests Sunday of Mrs. Otis Hoffman.

POLICE WILL ENFORCE LAW AGAINST CARRYING WEAPONS

Persons Found With Gun or Revolver Will Be Liable to $100 Fine.

Following the council session Monday morning Commissioner Martin stated that the police department had received special instructions for the careful observance of the law which makes it an offense to carry concealed weapons. The police have the right under the law to search any man suspected of carrying a weapon and this is to be the rule. There has been too much promiscuous "gun toting" both by white and colored men. This practice has been responsible for a number of shooting affrays in the past and it is intended to now put a stop to the practice. All suspects will be searched and any man found with a revolver or other weapon will be given the highest fine possible under the law. This means $100 and costs for every man found carrying a weapon.

The order is now in effect and members of the police department are going to keep a sharp look out for offenders.

BISHOP FALLOWS WILL SPEAK AT JACKSONVILLE CHAUTAUQUA

Arrangement for Old Soldiers and Settlers Day Tuesday, Aug. 22—Baby Show Planned.

Plans for the sale and delivery of the Jacksonville Chautauqua subscribers' tickets formed the theme of discussion at a special meeting of the directors Monday afternoon at the Farmers' State bank. The directors plan to have the program out this year early in July and this fact will facilitate the disposal of season tickets.

Bishop Fallows will be the speaker on the only special day thus far arranged, "Old Soldiers and Settlers' Day," Tuesday, August 22. It is probable that there will again be a "Jacksonville Day" the plans for such a program are not yet worked out.

In all probability the "better babies" contest will feature the 1916 Chautauqua and it is suggested that a decorated baby carriage parade be held in this connection.

The matter of an auto parade was discussed and found favor with each of the directors.

BACCALAURETE SERVICE FOR I. C. GRADUATES

FORCEFUL SERMON DELIVERED BY DR. THOMAS SMITH.

Three Church's United for the Service Sunday Morning at Westminster—Class Largest in History of College.

A great audience assembled Sunday morning at Westminster Presbyterian church for Illinois College baccalaurete services. State street and Congregational churches united with Westminster church for service. The graduating class this year is the largest in the history of the college. In the parlors of the church there assembled the graduating class, trustees, faculty, alumni of the college, alumnae of the Academy and Athenaeum, graduates of the Conservatory and former college students and entered the church in a body and took seats assigned them. The sermon was by Rev. Thomas W. Smith, D. D., pastor of Arlington Avenue Presbyterian church, East Orange, New Jersey and was a masterly effort. The audience room was decorated with flowers and plants and the music by the Conservatory double quartet with Mrs. Bulard at the organ was excellent. Rev. Mr. Landis, pastor of the church, Dr. Post, Dr. Morey and Pres. Rammelkamp had part in the exercises.

The talented speaker first dwelt on the happiness of the occasion and his delight at seeing such evidences of prosperity in his beloved alma mater, the fine condition of the college, its largest graduating class, its president who has labored so faithfully.

He took for his text, Isaiah 32:17, "The work of righteousness shall be peace," and Micah, 3:5, "Thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that make my people cry, that bite with their teeth and cry 'Peace,' and he that putteth not into their mouths they even prepare war against him."

"We have a picture of two patriots grieving; of two prophets warning and pleading with the people to stop doing wrong and burst forth with the prediction that nations shall learn war no more. Peace is not enforced by armies but is the product of a spiritual life. God in Christ was the answer to their desire. The King of righteousness is the King of peace. Christ suffered that man might have peace with God. External devices are but temporary; Christ alone goes to the root of the matter."

"Christ appeals not to the great but to the poor and lowly. He came not from the proud capital but from Bethlehem. He did not ask wage earners to be satisfied with poor pay. Only where His principles obtain do we find men seeking and getting better hours and better pay. He permits no organization to be substituted for religious belief. It is wrong for the workman to seek more than his just deserts and it is wrong for the employer to seek to get his services for less."

"Christ has broken down the wall between the employer and the employed and in Colorado we see the benefits of justice to both sides. Military organizations, courts of nations, treaties and all other means for peace are good as far as they go but the righteousness of Christ is the sure path to universal peace. The great nations should bear the burdens of the weaker. It is time for the western nations to be governed by righteousness in their treatment of the orient. The glad time is coming. Missions are welding nations together with a golden chain. Some may say it is utopian but many dreams of Isaiah have come true. We should take our place among the nations and have an army and navy strong enough to command respect but should not depend solely on them. The greatest kingdom is not by the mailed fist but by the pierced hand. If we could enter Mexico and establish hospitals; we would need no border army; if we remove the restrictions from Japanese immigration we need no navy on the Pacific."

"Belgium suffered vicariously to save Europe. She resisted the invading armies that trod her soil regardless of a solemn promise not to do so and held them in check, suffering most cruelly in the cause of righteousness but she will rise again and be repaid for her loss. If we follow Mammon we shall go the way of Nineveh, of Babylon, of Tyre and Rome but if we follow the course of righteousness we shall live."

Address to the Class.
"Members of the graduating class, you are the children of an historic institution. Four score and seven years ago the Yale Band came and laid its foundation upon a great faith. They believed the gospel to be the cornerstone of a free republic, that the American nation must stand or fall, according as it was salted with the ideals of the kingdom. The gospel at that time had not yet been split into two varieties, the individualistic and the social. They held that Christ's simple truth, liberated and fought for, would make men free and brothers indeed. So they taught it and so they wrought for it in manifold hardships, and they and their early successors sought first the kingdom of God."

When slavery threw its baleful shadow upon this state, these men faced its powerful supporters and said, "This is a foe of the kingdom and cannot live." To say this cost them friends, students, popularity and income. But they would not serve Mammon. They would not renounce their King."

"John M. Ellis, Theron Baldwin, John F. Brooke, Mason Grosvenor, Elisha Jenney, William Kirby, Julian M. Sturtevant, Asa Turner, Samuel Lockwood, Edward K. Beecher, Jonathan B. Turner, Samuel Adams, Rufus Crampton, Edward A. Tanner—these are the sons of sacred flame. Their brows are marked with a secret name."

The company of souls supreme, The conscripts of a mighty dream, These all, save one, sleep in the bosom of the prairie they loved, but their dream is coming true, because brave men died for the ideals of the kingdom, and for the republic founded thereon. Hosts of the Sons of Illinois "Resisted unto blood, striving against sin," but the little flag that flutters over their graves today also floats over a republic still advancing freedom's way."

The Age-Long Question
"Today you go out facing the same age-long question. Can the ideals of Jesus be translated into history? Many will tell you they cannot be. I beg you remember you stand in the succession of men, fearless and far-sighted, who believed they can be and laid down their lives to prove it. You are the heirs of a great tradition—'Blessed are they that suffer for righteousness sake, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven,' and evermore 'The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand.' Do not wait for the millennium to attempt the higher righteousness. When one of the Doukhobors was put on trial for refusing to enter the Russian army, the judge reasoned with him, but he gave the judge a homily on the teachings of Jesus. 'Quite right,' said the judge, 'but the time has not yet come to put into practice the literal sayings of Christ.' The honest peasant stood erect and answered, 'The time may not have come, Your Honor, but the time has come for us.' We may question the literalism of this brave believer as he interpreted Jesus, but who can question his superb loyalty to his Master? The time is always here for brave hearts to follow Christ as He gives us light."

"You will hear around you the cry, 'Be practical, be not righteous over much,' win fortune and fame, and power." If you conform and say, "As do others, so must I," let dreams of brotherhood go for a more convenient season. I must live—then there dies the prophet in you. Then you quench one of the brightest torches kindled upon the altar of the old college, torches sorely needed in the materialistic murkiness of our age."

Prayer and Deeds
"There pass from our schools thousands of men and women of technical training, scientific lore, literary skill, they are all needed, but what the soul of this republic sighs for more profoundly is men and women of fine sensitiveness for what is right, and of stern conscience for those things that build the eternal Kingdom of God. Clever men are abundant but the prophets are few. Men and women who can keep the soul of the world alive. Oh, that it might be given to you, not only to pray, 'Thy Kingdom come,' but to coin your prayer into deeds."

Charles Sumner said, "Our first requisite is backbone; next we need backbone and in the third place we need more backbone."

"That your vision be not clouded, cleave to the Glorious Son of God. Study and pray, resolve and act, always in the full midday beam of His sacrifice. Then you will be willing to lose something for your ideals, then you will be felt, then the salt will not lose its savor. Then all your knowledge will pass into thought, your thought into judgment, your judgment into will, your will into character—such character as will convince some segment of this unbelieving world that the Kingdom of God is practical."

The sermon on the mount is not a huge joke, it does not need to be flanked with howitzers in order to move men and nations. The Eternal God is back of it still, because love lies at the heart of this universe, because the words of Christ are based upon what Robert Louis Stevenson called "The kindness 'o' the scheme 'o' things, and the goodness 'o' our-ralled God." They are far more workable than this sad world knows. To prove this way is your high calling and mine. It matters not in what field nor in what station we make our battle for righteousness. Wherein Christ's man plants his life and there prays and struggles and suffers, the harvest is sure. "And from the ground there blossoms red life that shall endure." If you go to the darkest places and there burn to the socket, your reward is surest of all."

"Wherever it be, let the undefeatable Christ go with you. Let His measureless resources be yours. Do not tremble for the results. God's results are always success. For 'the effect of righteousness is quietness and confidence forever.' 'Yea thro life, death, thro sorrow and thro sinning, Christ shall suffice for He hath suffered.' Christ is the end for Christ was the beginning. Christ the beginning for the end is Christ."

WITNESSES DECLARE SUTTON WAS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

McKinley Harrison Who Discharged Revolver Held to the Grand Jury.

McKinley Harrison who was arrested Sunday morning charged with the death of Sanford Sutton was held by the coroner's jury without bond to await the action of the Grand jury. Sutton was shot in West Morgan street early Sunday morning.

The verdict was reached by the coroner's jury after hearing the evidence of a number of witnesses. The evidence proved the correctness of the theory of the police which was given in the Journal Sunday morning that the shooting was accidental.

The jury selected to hear the evidence was composed of Charles Starks, foreman, John Yates, J. W. Muse, Clay Clark, Marion Coen and David Short, clerk. The inquest was held in the county court room at 9 o'clock Monday morning in charge of deputy coroner John G. Reynolds. State's Attorney W. N. Hairgrove was also present.

The jury heard the evidence of Edward Simpson, Howard Holt, McKinley Harrison, Roy Bryant, Walter Patterson, Henry Baskert and Clarence Britt, all colored and Jeremiah Sweeney, merchant policeman. The testimony of all of the young men who were in the party when Sutton was shot was practically the same.

The testimony showed that a number of young men, among them Sutton, who was killed and Harrison, who did the shooting congregated at Patterson's pool room Saturday night and were playing pool.

Harrison in his testimony said that he had a bottle of whiskey. This he said he purchased from Jess Radliff at Konrad's place. He also said that he purchased the revolver which killed Sutton from a man near the Wabash tracks Saturday evening.

While playing pool Harrison removed his coat which contained the revolver. After playing several games the party decided to go to the hamburger stand of Frank Wright on North West street and get some sandwiches. In the party were Sanford Sutton, McKinley Harrison, Clarence Britt, Eddie Simpson, Roy Bryant and others. After leaving the pool room Harrison remembered that he had left his coat there, Sutton told Harrison he had his coat and that Roy Bryant had the revolver.

Sutton then went back to get the revolver. He came back with it and handed it to Harrison. At that time the party was standing in front of the Ward building in West Morgan street. Sutton suggested that he had better pull it off. Harrison said he believed he would shoot it off toward the Y. M. C. A. He threw the weapon back and as it went over his shoulder it was discharged. Sutton was standing back and a little to one side and the bullet entered his breast and ranged downward coming out under the left arm.

Harrison after he had assisted in taking Sutton to Dr. Kennel's and found that he was dying became frightened and ran away. He wandered around, finally coming back into Broadway alley and crawling under a platform in the rear of the Gay Hardware store and going to sleep. Patrolman Sweeney heard him snoring while going thru the alley and put him under arrest taking him to the police station. The testimony of the other witnesses of the manner in which Sutton was shot agreed with that of Harrison.

REV. PERCY H. EPLER INSTALLED

The Boston Congregationalist says: One of the most interesting events connected with the state conference was the installation of Rev. P. H. Epler as pastor of the First Congregational, Indianapolis.

The installing council organized by electing Rev. W. O. Rogers of Terre Haute and Rev. P. W. Dierberger of Indianapolis as moderator and scribe. In addition to the ecclesiastical records there were read some very high tributes to the new pastor's character and ability from Eastern ministers. The candidate's statement of doctrinal belief and religious experience showed the insight and certainty that comes from thinking and living, and all expressed the heartiest approval.

At the evening hour the usual program was carried out: Scripture reading, Rev. P. W. Dierberger, Indianapolis; right hand of fellowship, Rev. Eric L. Lind, Cary, charge to people, Rev. Andrew U. Ogilvie, Elkhart; charge to pastor, Rev. L. Curtis Talmage, Terre Haute. The sermon was preached by the new pastor on The Beatitude of Progress, and was a clarion call for advancement in all lines of thought and life. Rev. Charles R. Lawson of Indianapolis pronounced the benediction.

Mr. Epler is a Western man who has been developing his powers in the East in preparation for just such an opportunity as he now has. His last 11 years have been spent at Adams Square, Worcester, Mass., where he achieved wonderful permanent results. His coming to Indianapolis means a great deal, not only for First, but for the state work. It is hoped that this example of installation, now set by Mr. Epler at Indianapolis, may be followed by other churches in the state, thus making for the permanency Indiana has so lacked.

JACKSONVILLE WINS
HOT GAME SUNDAYDEFEAT PEKIN PIRATES BY
SCORE OF 1 TO 0

White Pitches Great Game Allowing Only Three Bingles—Walk by Clay Paves Way for Winning Run—Game Played in 1:20.

Fans saw another good ball game at Nichols park Sunday afternoon when the Jacksonville Merchants defeated the Pekin Pirates by a score of 1 to 0. In fact good games are the only kind the Merchants have been playing so far this season.

The game was largely a pitcher's battle between White and Clay. If Clay had not walked DeFrates in the sixth it is probable the teams would have battled until dark without a decision. White allowed three hits while the locals got six off of Clay. He kept them widely scattered, however, and when men did get on he caught them napping and they were easy outs. During the afternoon Clay picked off three of the locals, catching them flat footed. White for the locals allowed three bingles. Only one man got to second base and none got beyond that station.

Both teams played a good game in the field. The Haasie, the visitors' shortstop had a hard day. He had lots of hard ones hit at him and was credited with two errors and one of them figured in the score. Dittmer caught a good game for the visitors while Clark for the locals also was in fine form.

The game was one of the fastest ever played in Jacksonville, being finished in one hour and twenty minutes. The speed with which the game was played pleased the fans who were down town before 4:30 o'clock.

The only run of the game came in the sixth. DeFrates was first up and walked and stole second. Clark bunted the ball but ran into it going to first base and was out. Fanning fled to Becker. Haasie erred on McCollister's hit and DeFrates took third. Christopher poked a Texas leaguer over third base and DeFrates scored. McCollister who had taken second on Christopher's hit was caught off the sack and run down Callahan finally getting the out.

INDEPENDENT'S TRIM PITTSFIELD IN UNINTERESTING GAME

Score 3 to 2—Contest Full of Mistakes, Both Sides Making Many Errors.

Pittsfield lost a close game to the Independents Sunday afternoon by a score of 3 to 2. The holding was poor on both sides and had Patrick been accorded good support it is probable that Pittsfield would have been shut out.

Patrick showed excellent form. He allowed the visitors but four hits but loose fielding presented them with two runs in the second inning. The Independents made one in their half of the same inning. However, it looked for a while, tho, that one run lead would be sufficient. However, in the sixth the locals tied the count and made what proved to be the winning run in the seventh.

The visitors made their two runs in the second. It was two down, errors by Anders and Woodman, and a long double by Rush put two runs over. The Independents made one in their half of the second on an error and two singles. In the sixth the Independents tied the score. Richardson's single and a steal and Patrick's hit putting him across. Tate scored the winning run in the seventh on an error, a steal, a passed ball and a sacrifice fly by Denny. The score:

EQUAL SUFFRAGE NEWS LETTER

For many weeks the offices of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association in connection with Parade headquarters have been filled with eager women making and carrying thru plans for the June 7th Suffrage Parade. Women in the wards of Chicago, women well known in women's clubs throughout the country, women from suburban towns and women from southern Illinois and large delegations of women from every state in the union have been sending in enrollment cards.

At the Assembly in the Princess Theatre on June 6th when the message to the Republican Convention was drafted thousands of women were present to hear speeches by members of the National Board of the National American Woman Suffrage Association and to endorse the message. On the following morning there was a second meeting of the Assembly at which Carrie Chapman Catt, now president of the N. A. W. S. Ass'n., asked for a rising vote on whether or not to parade in spite of the rain. The audience rose en masse and voted to parade.

At four o'clock that afternoon as the notes of a bugle were heard the Parade began to move south on Michigan Boulevard in a drenching rain and bitter cold wind. Beautiful banners were ruined by the high wind and torrents of rain. Undaunted the ranks of women marched firmly to the Coliseum between sidewalks lined with men under umbrellas who clapped and cheered the bearers of the resolution for an equal suffrage plank in the Republican Party platform.

The resolutions committee when the procession arrived was holding a hearing for the women opposed to equal suffrage. As the speaker for this group said, "Very few women in America really desire the ballot." The wet but courageous members of the first division of the Parade were ushered into the Coliseum and followed by five thousand others that quietly gave evidence that there were women in America that wanted to vote fair weather or foul. The Resolutions Committee on June 8th voted 26-2 in favor of putting an equal suffrage plank in the Republican Platform.

On June 8th the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association gave a Victory Reception on the Municipal Pier at which Mrs. Harrison Monro Brown presided and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt spoke to a huge gathering. Other speakers included Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, former State President, Alderman Henry Little, chairman of the commission in charge of the Pier, Alice Stone Blackwell, editor of the Woman's Journal of Boston, Lieut. Gov. Barrett O'Hara, and Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, president of the Missouri Equal Suffrage Association. The committee extended an invitation to all suffragists to come to St. Louis on June 14th and attend the Walkless Parade there, when the Democratic Convention will be asked to insert an equal suffrage plank.

WOMAN'S MARTYRDOM

How many men, think you, have any idea of the pain and misery endured by women of their own households, who suffer from ills peculiar to their sex. They often see them smiling and trying to be cheerful, even while racked with pain. If every such woman would only be guided by the experience of thousands of others who have been restored to health by that grand old remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, much suffering might be avoided.—Adv.

HIS PALINDROME.

A tourist traveling with a party of friends was seized with a sudden illness and was compelled to remain for some hours in hotel. He insisted that the others must go out and enjoy the day and said that he would spend a few hours composing a palindrome—a sentence the letters of which are in the same order whether read forward or backward.

"All right," said one of the party, "but you'll never beat the sign I saw in a country store when I was a boy and red root was in some demand: 'RED ROOT PUT UP TO ORDER.'"

When the party returned the sick man's face wore a triumphant smile as he handed the following lines to his friend:

To prove him to a doubting maid,
Ned a bold, dangerous task es-
sayed,
And when he came in triumph
home
She answered with a palindrome,
Ere half his fervent plea was done,
"Now, Ned, I am a maiden won."

England's most beautiful village

When Sir John Gorst succeeded his brother in his Wiltshire property he became the owner of what is held to be the most beautiful village in England. Visitors to Bath are supposed to have misused their opportunities unless they have been to Castle Combe and indeed the sweet little place is so extensively visited, although it is five and a half miles from any railway, that during the summer months provision is made on the last day of the week for from 800 to 1,000 trippers. The surrounding scenery is not less picturesque than the village itself, and to those who are interested in such matters there is also the attraction of long history. The church of Castle Combe, which is ancient, has been restored without being spoiled.

ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENCE

Piraeus, Greece, June.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)

The port of Piraeus possesses today a vastly different aspect from that of a year and a half ago. The conspicuous offices of the Hamburg-Amerika, Norddeutscher Lloyd and Austrian Lloyd lines, deserted and forlorn where once so busy, mark the passing of a considerable factor in the marine activity of the port of Athens. Only three smokeless, neglected-looking vessels, moored stern to at the far sea wall, represent in their interred inaction the sea power that once was German in these waters.

Grain ships from America or the Argentine, tank steamers, huge transports swarming with Greek soldiers, tiny coasting vessels towering trans-Atlantics—all these crowd the Greek harbor. Along the quay lies the finance of the Foresight, a British dispatch vessel, flying the red Union Jack; beyond the custom house is moored and Italian passenger steamship, occasionally the red, white and green, displaying the hulk, round-shouldered workman of a Messageries Maritimes packet slips out with the French tri-color flying and slips out again within a few hours. Save for these, where once the German, Austrian, Turkish and Roumanian flags abounded, now all the busy basin reveals only the blue and white stripes and the white cross on a blue ground of Hellas. On the quays, too, where once the German was a eurent tongue, one hears now some Italian, a very little English, a scattering of French—and all the rest is Greek.

A queer spot, Piraeus, guarding still much of the primitiveness that Athens in a measure has outgrown. Here the East is cheek by jowl with the West. Dirt, the mark of the East, is paramount. Yet sitting before a cafe, the amber stem of a narghila caught between his lips, a white-skirted farmer from the Attic hills watches an automobile sprinkling cart—of a model so improved that perhaps few American cities boast the like—lay the dust and splash the passerby with equal effectiveness.

Surrounding a long-haired religious fanatic, mounted upon a mule, refusal to see in New York, is a crowd that includes sturdy Cretans in baggy bloomers and high boots; Macedonian refugee women in colorful peasant costume; and neat blue-clad sailors of the Greek navy, whose smart appearance is due probably to the work of the British Naval Mission, but whose seamanship dates from the days of Jason and Ulysses.

The electric cars of Berlin are not more perfectly appointed than those of Piraeus. Behind one comes a funeral—a funeral of the people. The long-haired, long-bearded, black-robed priest rides in a broken down cab at the head of the procession; an acolyte in white surplice and black toque crossed with gold braids, sits on the box beside the coachman, a brass cross-capped staff in hand, but pretentious affair, veneered in yellow, with glass sides to display the coffin within. As it passes, the Greeks on sidewalks uncover and tap their breasts in a vague manner intended to form the sign of the cross, executed backward in comparison with the Roman Catholics, following the ancient rite of the Greek church.

A covey of newsboys who might have learned their business in Park Row race down the street crying the latest edition at the tops of their voices. One words stands out "Venize...!" The Piraeus newsboy swallows the end of the Cretan's name—after all, the merest suggestion suffices, so well known it is.

One of the newsboys stops to buy a glass of lemonade of an old Turk, who carries his shop around on his back. It is a huge copper turnip with a stem a yard long that curves over his right shoulder. On a hook at his waist is a smaller copper pot containing water with which the vendor rinses the glasses hanging on hooks at his belt. To pour the lemonade, the old Turk merely bends over, holding the glass aloft in his right hands. The movement tilts the copper turnip and out runs the liquid.

As the cool of the evening comes the sidewalk cafes are crowded. The streets swarm with beggars—little girls with faded flowers who push their way among the tables and seek to pin their posies on the coats of likely-looking gentlemen too polite to push away the scrawny little hands. A man with a phonograph under his arm sets it up on a vacant table and takes a battered record from under his coat—"Waiting for the Robert E. Lee" or "Get Out and Get Under." When the concert is over, the mechanical musician exacts his toll from all and sundry within hearing distance. Prosperous mendicants, these. But in the shadows, shy and frightened, yet desperate with hunger, babes in arms, Turk wives of Greece's mobilized but inactive army, creeping out to acoust the more fortunate with their almost intelligible sing song of misery.

Use Care in Starting

Free inspection of any battery at any

Most all of us have gone along the street at some time and heard a motor churn and churn under the power of a starter without any apparent results.

This is one of the most frequent causes of storage battery failure according to a service representative of the Willard Storage Co. He explained that very few motorists seemed to have an immense amount of electrical power which is required to start a motor, and what a considerable amount of driving speed is necessary to restore same amount of current energy.

A little care in operating the self-starter will obviate the driver should always make sure that the starting mechanism is thrown before attempting to operate the self-starter. The gasoline tank is empty and under such conditions of cranking would start the motor.

The ignition button should always be pressed in firm wire connections should be tight. Occasionally the gas pressure is too weak and on most cars this can be adjusted dash. The coil and distributor should be kept perfectly dry for the current to reach the spark plugs.

We have as complete a workshop and a force of mechanics as will be found in this section of the state. No large or too small but what it can be handled and done right away.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY FARMERS STUDY LEGUMES

During the week ending June 3, demonstrations for the purpose of studying sweet clover, red clover, and mammoth clover production have been held in nearly all parts of the county. Practically every question which may be asked in reference to the management of these crops was answered at these demonstrations in the best possible way, but not enough people have been in attendance.

During the past week we have had Mr. J. C. Beavers of Purdue University, and Mr. H. S. Coe, of Washington, D. C., with us.

Mr. Beavers of Purdue University accompanied us at these demonstrations the first part of the week. He is especially interested in sweet clover and its management. During the latter part of the same week Mr. Coe, of Washington, D. C., was present for practically the same purpose as was Mr. Beavers. Mr. Coe is a clover specialist of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Sweet Clover. Practically all of the sweet clover in the county has been clipped at this date. Much of it, however, has been cut too late and entirely too short to make a seed crop. From the evidence I have obtained in traveling over the county, visiting a great number of sweet clover fields, I find that almost 5 per cent of the sweet clover fields will be totally or partially killed by cutting too short and too late. On the 1. J. Gallup farm, near Edinburg, we have one of the best demonstrations of the proper method in the management of sweet clover. Mr. Gallup has 10 acres of sweet clover, most of which is growing on phosphated land. By May 20 it had attained a height of about 20 inches, on the 22 of May he began to cut 7 inches high. This portion of the field had become quite green within a week. New shoots show that a heavy growth will be obtained for the seed crop. That which was cut on the 29th at a height of 12 inches, however, showable with side branches. Undoubtedly many of the roots clipped the 29th will die. At that date clover was about 22 inches high and 18 inches higher than it was a week earlier, thus showing the great necessity for prompt action in cutting sweet clover until the proper time arrives. Undoubtedly this crop should be cut when it is about 20 to 25 inches high, even if it is necessary to clip it a second time before the seed crop is permitted to grow.

Rock Phosphated Sweet Clover. It is a most interesting thing, and quite important, to note that most crops of sweet clover are being grown on land which has been phosphated at the rate of about 1,000 pounds per acre. Portions of the field receiving no application have produced less than the growth which has developed on the phosphated portion. This has been true on scores of other farms throughout the county. Similar results have been obtained during the last three years not only with sweet clover, but with alfalfa, red clover, and mammoth clover. These results should be given most careful consideration. It gives us the key to most successful methods for production of alfalfa and the clovers.

The Value of Sweet Clover. When we come to study carefully the valuation of sweet clover, such as Mr. Gallup and many others in this county are producing, the result of careful estimates is hardly believable. After the clover was taken off last fall, Mr. Gallup obtained a growth of about 1 1/2 tons sweet clover per acre; this spring he has already produced about 2 1/2 tons sweet clover per acre, and will obtain no less than 1 1/2 in the following, or seed, crop. This makes a total production of 5 1/2 tons organic matter in the tops, not considering the tremendous root growth. Mr. Gallup clipped the clover and the growth of sweet clover for soil improvement, that is to say, it was not taken off the field; spring growth has already been clipped. This, too, will be left on the ground. The seed will be harvested and the straw returned to the soil. Mr. Gallup will return 5 1/2 tons of sweet clover to the soil. In this amount of sweet clover he has obtained 225 lbs. of air and added to the soil 225 lbs. of nitrogen; has digested and put into the most available form 228 pounds phosphorus and 231 pounds potassium; or in other words, he has actually added to his soil as much nitrogen as is contained in 25 tons of barn yard manure, and as much available phosphorus as is contained in 19 tons of barn yard manure, and as much available potassium as is obtained in 29 tons of barn yard manure. This is calculated on the acre basis. At a dollar a ton for the fertilizer alone, this sweet clover is, therefore, worth at least $25 per acre and will undoubtedly give a greater value in subsequent crop production. We have not yet taken in to account the seed crop, which averages about 6 bushels per acre. Should Mr. Gallup get an average seed crop and, say sell at only $5 per bushel, has a very paying crop from the seed alone.

In my opinion, however, it is not necessary, and in but few cases advisable, to return all of the sweet clover crop except the seed to the soil. In a few rotations the soil would become so filled with nitrogen that ordinary grain crops could not be grown with safety at all. However, it is quite advisable to harvest the fall crop for hay, turn the spring crop for soil improvement, save the seed crop, and return the straw to other portions of the farm. It should be remembered that 12 to 14 inches of stubble are left upon the soil after seed crop is removed. This stubble is more than equal to the fertilizing value of the average red clover crop.

Sweet Clover for Pasture. If it is desired to pasture sweet clover remember that the performance in the county this year has proven beyond any doubt that sweet clover pasture will carry more livestock per acre than any other pasture crop which has yet been introduced. John Vissering, of Dana, has had 74 head of cattle, and 154 head of hogs on 30 acres of sweet clover and 5 acres of common red clover since the first of April. This amount of stock has obtained all the feed they could consume and has done well; not more than one half stand of sweet clover is had in the field. In a number of other fields we have from two to three head of horses and cattle per acre being pastured in Livingston county at the present time. Over 1,000 head of livestock, horses and cattle, are now being pastured on sweet clover.

The Spring Crop. Those who have attempted to make hay of the spring crop have met with a great deal of trouble. At this time of the year it is next to impossible to cure a hay crop which will make 2 1/2 to 3 tons per acre. Some of the hay has lain on the ground fully a week without curing sufficiently to be stored. It has been proven, however, that it has been proved, however, that into shocks before it begins to cure and let it cure out in the shocks. The time required for this cure will be from 1 to 2 weeks, depending on weather conditions. The most advisable way to save the spring crop, where it is desired to use for seed, is to make it into silage. George Nimmo, of Fairbury, Edward Unz, Reddick, George Peter, Pontiac, and a number of others, have put up considerable quantities of clover silage. Mr. Nimmo has had experience in feeding 80 tons of sweet clover silage and has found it excellent. Mr. Unz, of Reddick, has also had some experience with sweet clover silage and thinks it good.

I feel quite justified in saying that sweet clover promises to be, when used in connection with our grain crops in this county, one of the most valuable crops that has ever been introduced. Fact is if managed as it may be managed for soil improvement, crop production, and feeding livestock, it will excel by far our largest grain crop in its earning capacity.

Red Clover. At this time it is important to call attention to the proper management of red clover. Red clover should be applied from the 10th to 15th of June. I believe some of the fields will require clipping before that time. Even if this clover is to be made into hay, it should be cut much higher than is normally practiced, that is to say from 3 to 5 inches. This will insure a very much more satisfactory second crop whether or not it is used for seed or hay.

Mammoth clover should be cut now, if at all, and higher than red clover. Not all mammoth clover will require clipping from 8 to 12 inches high. In all cases clipping should be high enough to leave a number of buds and branches. Most people will find it advisable not to clip mammoth clover at all, but to roll it or drag it down for second production or soil improvement.

Roy C. Bishop, County Agricultural Agent.

clover remember that the performance in the county this year has proven beyond any doubt that sweet clover pasture will carry more livestock per acre than any other pasture crop which has yet been introduced. John Vissering, of Dana, has had 74 head of cattle, and 154 head of hogs on 30 acres of sweet clover and 5 acres of common red clover since the first of April. This amount of stock has obtained all the feed they could consume and has done well; not more than one half stand of sweet clover is had in the field. In a number of other fields we have from two to three head of horses and cattle per acre being pastured in Livingston county at the present time. Over 1,000 head of livestock, horses and cattle, are now being pastured on sweet clover.

The Spring Crop. Those who have attempted to make hay of the spring crop have met with a great deal of trouble. At this time of the year it is next to impossible to cure a hay crop which will make 2 1/2 to 3 tons per acre. Some of the hay has lain on the ground fully a week without curing sufficiently to be stored. It has been proven, however, that it has been proved, however, that into shocks before it begins to cure and let it cure out in the shocks. The time required for this cure will be from 1 to 2 weeks, depending on weather conditions. The most advisable way to save the spring crop, where it is desired to use for seed, is to make it into silage. George Nimmo, of Fairbury, Edward Unz, Reddick, George Peter, Pontiac, and a number of others, have put up considerable quantities of clover silage. Mr. Nimmo has had experience in feeding 80 tons of sweet clover silage and has found it excellent. Mr. Unz, of Reddick, has also had some experience with sweet clover silage and thinks it good.

I feel quite justified in saying that sweet clover promises to be, when used in connection with our grain crops in this county, one of the most valuable crops that has ever been introduced. Fact is if managed as it may be managed for soil improvement, crop production, and feeding livestock, it will excel by far our largest grain crop in its earning capacity.

Red Clover. At this time it is important to call attention to the proper management of red clover. Red clover should be applied from the 10th to 15th of June. I believe some of the fields will require clipping before that time. Even if this clover is to be made into hay, it should be cut much higher than is normally practiced, that is to say from 3 to 5 inches. This will insure a very much more satisfactory second crop whether or not it is used for seed or hay.

Mammoth clover should be cut now, if at all, and higher than red clover. Not all mammoth clover will require clipping from 8 to 12 inches high. In all cases clipping should be high enough to leave a number of buds and branches. Most people will find it advisable not to clip mammoth clover at all, but to roll it or drag it down for second production or soil improvement.

TAZEVELL COUNTY ADVISER AT WORK

Corn Tests at the Verry Bank.

The other day I heard farmers near Arrington say complimentary things about the corn tests which were made the past spring at the Verry Bank in Arrington. The bank set up a corn tester and tested a great many samples of corn for farmers around Arrington. This gave them a good idea about the vitality of their corn and also gave a splendid demonstration of the value of corn for germination. It is said that this testing work is responsible for a number of farmers around Arrington hunting up good seed corn while there was time to get it and so that has helped that section to have a better stand of corn on the average than it otherwise would.

Many careful and successful farmers have told me this spring that they never in their lives have found it necessary to plant a field of corn over the second time. They have always succeeded in getting a stand of corn. Of course whenever a man fails to get a stand of corn he has some ready excuse to offer, but these statements of men who have been farming for 10 to 40 years show that it must usually be the man's own fault if he fails to get a stand of corn the first time he plants it. Everyone of the farmers who have told me of their success in this matter are men who are very careful in selecting and caring for their seed corn and they make sure it will grow before they plant it in the field.

Road Dragging at Minier. Minier is one of the towns in this county which is surrounded by roads which are exceedingly good considering the stiff black land on which they are made. Good dragging seems to be the principal secret of maintaining these roads in good condition after the road bed is once established. One morning soon after a heavy rain fell on J. B. Graft's farm and found that his 13 year old son was out dragging the road. The ground was still too wet to work in the field but the road was just right to drag so there was no time lost from the field work. With four horses this boy dragged a strip of road 5 1/2 miles long that morning making the trip out and back of 11 miles altogether. He did so good a job dragging that the big road machine which came along the next day over part of his strip of road did not change the condition of it a particle. It is work like this in dragging roads the right way and at the right time that counts for so much in keeping roads in condition during the summer. The best thing about it is that the roads are in shape to go to best advantage when the ground is still a little too wet to work in the fields. As one man said to me the other day, if every farmer took a hand in dragging the roads it would only take an hour or two to drag all the roads in the county.

Demonstration Trips Last Week. Three demonstration trips were held last week, one at Washington, one at Morton and one around Tremont. The rains of the week before delayed work so much that everybody was exceedingly busy and so a great many who had planned to go on these trips were forced to work in their corn fields instead. There was a pleasant day for each trip and the Farm Bureau members who went from farm to farm saw splendid demonstrations in what can be done with alfalfa, sweet clover, limestone, phosphate, self-feeders for hogs and also various other plans for handling live stock successfully. Some fine pure bred stock was seen on some of the farms and the owners told how they handled the business to advantage. Arrangements have been made for a trip to the Agricultural Experiment Station at Champaign later in the month if a sufficient number of Farm Bureau members can go.

THE CUP THAT CHEERS

SAVE THE COUPONS

by the self-sacrifice of sixty persons in this town, who submitted to the doctors' knives in order that little Ursa McDougall might live. Their skin covers nearly half of the little body that was seared by flames a year ago.

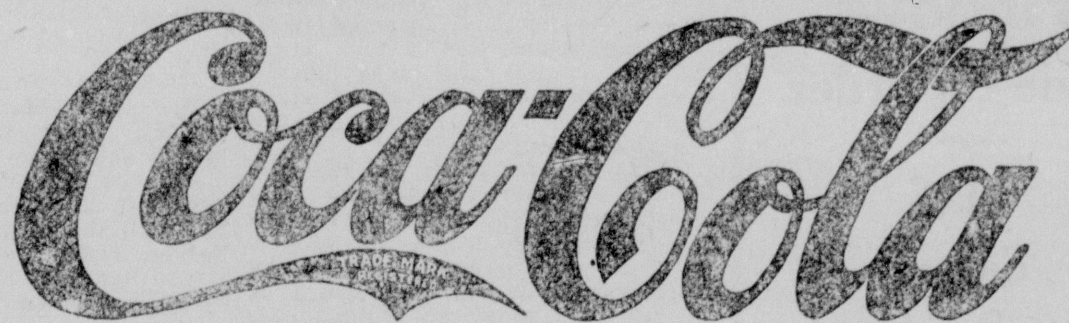

Yesterday little Ursa had a birthday party. She is just fourteen. And all the community came to the party, for all now have a vital interest in the little girl. For a full year, the doctors were doubtful whether little Ursa would recover, but last month the tide was turned, after three score of different persons had given patches of skin, and 150 grafts in all had been made.

The heroine of Lewistown was burned from head to foot by a blazing fluid composed of paraffine and turpentine which had been placed on a stove. Practically every hour for a full year she has been compelled to stay in bed. For months there was no way in which she could rest her blistered body. Her face, one arm and her chest were the only parts that escaped the burns.

Scores responded when the physicians called for volunteers to offer parts of their skin to the suffering child. Friends, relatives and even the physicians themselves gave freely. Neighbors left their work in the fields and went to the McDougall home. Last fall a dozen husky men

ORIGIN OF LAUGHTER.

Carrying the Analysis Back to the Lowly Prehistoric Clam.

Laughter is an involuntary physical reaction. Hughlings Jackson calls it "one of the innumerable epilepsies to which man is subject." It is apparently a universal heritage, though certain causes may operate more powerfully upon one individual than upon another to produce it. In the little child whose sensibilities are uncomplicated by any mental experience unless they be racial ones the shock of delicate touch—tickling, as we call it—first causes laughter. Why?

The chain of our psychoblast carries us a long leap backward to the most elemental form of animal life. Beyond the savage stands the monkey and dimly far beyond him the mollusk, whose only sense was that of touch. Picture this great-grandfather of living things lying motionless save for those nervous, fluttering, sensitive feelers extended to play the part of sight and hearing. A bit of seaweed bumps against them. A spasm racks the mollusk's whole being, crushing him into his shell until the surprise has abated; then the fact that no further attack follows brings relief.

This is the germ of the cause of our laughter spasm—a sudden shock, instantly followed by a feeling of relief. Only such shocks as were followed by relief became racial memories. Where relief did not follow the clam did not live to leave a heritage.—Burgess Johnson in Harper's Magazine.

SPOILED HIS SYSTEM.

CATARRH A BLOOD DISEASE

Drive It From Your System.

Because Catarrh affects the nose and throat, causing sores in the nostrils, stoppage of air-passages and gathering in the throat, it has been common practice to treat Catarrh with salves, washes and sprays applied to those parts. This mode of treatment cannot give permanent relief, and is liable to aggravate the trouble. Catarrh cannot be trifled with. It allowed to run on it will disease the bronchial tubes, settle on the lungs and affect the stomach—indeed it is a very serious disease. Don't treat it locally. The one treatment that has proven effective in the treatment of Catarrh is S. S. S., the greatest blood purifier and blood tonic known. It relieves the cause of Catarrh by renewing the blood, renewing its vigor, giving new life to the red blood corpuscles and stimulating the flow so that it has the vitality to throw off the poison and germs from the system. It is literally a blood bath. You quickly feel results. Headaches disappear, the gathering in the throat stops, the nostrils heal. S. S. S. is a natural blood tonic and has proven effective in the treatment of all blood affections. Eczema, tetter, rash, scrofula. Get S. S. S. at your druggist's. STOCKS OPEN WITH STRONG TONE; GATHER MOMENTUM LATER

Market Indicates Excess of Demand Over Supply and Urgent Covering of Short Contracts.

New York, June 12.—The reasonable inference to be drawn from today's market was that the Republican national ticket and the virtual collapse of the Progressive movement were altogether satisfactory to the important financial interests of the country. Stocks opened with a strong tone, gathering greater momentum later and extending to almost all classes of securities. The further success of the Russian armies against Austria also were a helpful factor in their effect upon speculative sentiment.

There was occasional recession from best quotations and a marked reduction of activity in the latter part of the session, resulting from heavy realizing.

In the main however, the course of the market indicated an excess of demand over supply and urgent covering of short contracts.

This was especially the case with old time favorites notably United States Steel. Other issues dependent in a measure on future tariff conditions were significantly active and strong.

Important rails, almost without exception, improved substantially over last week's final prices. Motors, fertilizers and numerous unclassified specialties exhibited an irregular strength.

Total sales of stock amounted to 695,000 shares.

Bonds were firm with further heavy dealings in Anglo-French five which closed at a slight gain, after some early heaviness. Total sales of bonds par value, $5,170,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BEARISH REPORTS FROM KANSAS AND NEBRASKA LOWER WHEAT

Close, Altho Unsettled Is 1½ to 1¾ Cents Net Lower—Corn Declines With Wheat.

Chicago, June 12.—Assertions that the Kansas and Nebraska yield for 1916 would be much nearer equal to the 1915 total than has been generally expected did a good deal today to cause a decline in the wheat market here. As a result, the close, altho unsettled was 1½ to 1¾ net lower with July at $1.03 and September at $1.04½.

Corn lost ¼¢ to ½¢; oats finished ¼¢ off to a shade advance and provisions at a rise of 27 to 82c.

Estimates made by a leading authority today put the Kansas wheat crop at 105,000,000 bushels as against 106,000,000 bushels last year. Nebraska was figured at 60,000,000 bushels a decrease of 6,000,000 bushels. These estimates which were accompanied by reports that the crop had shown wonderful improvement in Nebraska and the southwest during the last two weeks, led quickly to the lowest prices of the day. Not all of the decline was due however, to the bearish crop estimates. Right from the start, prices had a downward swing, influenced by easier cables, favorable weather and the slowness of shipping demand.

Besides the U. S. visible supply statement for the week was a disappointment for the bulls. Profit taking by shorts brought about something of a recovery in the wheat market as the session approached an end. The upturn was helped a little by announcement of the purchase of 12,000 bushels for export by way of the gulf of Mexico at a better price than any which had recently been offered.

Corn declined with wheat. A rally which wiped out the greater part of the loss ensued, tho, when the visible supply total was posted showing a much larger decrease than at the corresponding time last year. Favorable crop reports tended to weaken the oats market. July options went to the lowest quotations yet this season. Higher prices on hogs prompted a sharp advance in provisions. A leading packer was conspicuous on the buying side.

GOVERNMENT HAS TREE PLANTING MACHINE

New Apparatus Can Set From 10 to 15 Thousand Seedlings a Day.

Washington, June 12.—A machine which plants from 10 to 15 thousand forest tree seedlings a day is now being used at the Letchworth Park Forest and Arboretum, in Wyoming County, N. Y., according to officials of the Forest Service who are acting as advisers in the work. Previously the planting has been done by hand at the rate of 1,200 to 1,500 trees each day per man.

The machine was designed to set out cabbage and tomato plants, but works equally well with trees. It is about the size of an ordinary moving machine and is operated by three men and two horses. One man drives the team while the other two handle the seedlings. The machine makes a furrow in which the trees are set at any desired distance, and an automatic device indicates where they should be dropped. Two meal-tired wheels push and roll the dirt firmly down around the roots. This is a very desirable feature, it is said, because the trees are not to die if this is not well done. Two attachments make it possible to place water and fertilizer at the roots of each seedling. Another attachment marks the line on which the next row of trees is to be planted.

No cost figures are available yet, but officials say that the cost will be much less when the planting is done by hand. It is stated that the machine can be used on any land which has been cleared and is not too rough to plow and harrow.

COUNCIL REVOKES LICENSE OF PATTERSON BILLIARD ROOM

Warning Issued to Others—Compromise Proposition Made by Utility Company Not Viewed With Favor

On recommendation of Commissioner Martin the city council voted unanimously Monday morning to revoke the license of Walter Patterson, who conducts a pool room on West Morgan street. This action came as the result of the shooting Sunday morning which occasioned the death of Sanford Sutton. While all the facts have not been learned about the shooting, it is known that Sutton and the young men companions with him had been in the Patterson pool room. The billiard room has occasioned the police department some trouble in the past, and Mr. Martin decided that the radical step was taken for the best interest of the public. Incidentally warning was sounded that other licenses will be revoked unless more strict attention is paid to the observance of the law. The council also went on record as opposed to any compromise agreement with the Jacksonville Railway & Light company. It was the unanimous opinion as voiced by the mayor, that citizens were not justified in entering into a compromise agreement simply for the purpose of removing objections to street paving—that the streets had been in bad condition for some time and that the city could afford to wait rather than pay such a price.

Mr. Cox, who has not fully recovered from the injury he sustained when struck by a tree limb, was absent. The business of the session was mostly of a routine character other than that already outlined. The report of A. M. King, health warden, was received and showed that deaths during the month of May 49. The range of ages was as follows: five to twenty, one; 20 to 30, twenty; 30 to 40, eighteen; over 40, eight; unknown, two. Contagious diseases reported were: erysipelas one; whooping cough, one; diphtheria, two; typhoid fever, one; measles, five; smallpox, one.

Compromise Not For City's Interest

Mayor Rodgers said that so many unauthorized statements had been made with reference to the city commission's position with reference to any compromise in the Jacksonville rate case that he would like to have the council go on record and thus give to the public the commission's position. The mayor said "For myself I see no prospect of an agreement. The company has at no time made an offer at all advantageous to the city, and I do not believe that any offer that has been made could be accepted without sacrifice of the financial interest of the city. This city has been getting along without paying for a considerable time and although pavements on a number of streets are in very bad condition, there is no reason why we should give up the people's rights in order to make it possible to pave just at this time. The work can be done eventually. In propositions which have been talked about in the past they have never been anything written and they have been referred to only in a loose sort of way. When we went to Chicago with the railway company representatives to ask the commission to give an early decision it was with the understanding that this informal announcement, without making public the commission findings as to the company's financial condition, would be satisfactory to the company, and that in this way objection to paving would be removed. There was no written agreement about this but that was the understanding, and the commission was influenced by the facts set forth to give their early and informal finding. The commission has suggested that the company proceed to put the rates into force, and if even at the end of ninety days it can be shown that the rates are too low, that the commission will be willing to consider any new facts that are available."

Mr. Martin said that his view was that the city commissioners had nothing to do with the proposition—that it was wholly in the hands of the utilities commission and that he would be satisfied with whatever the commission found. Mr. Vasconcellos declared that whatever propositions the company had made in the past had been made informally to the people or to the Courier and not to the council—that when any propositions came before the council then would be the proper time to consider them. He expressed the view that the main purpose of the whole proceeding on the part of the company was to get hold of the city light plant. Mr. Widmayer declared that he agreed fully with the views of the situation outlined by Mayor Rodgers.

Financial Figures Quoted
City Attorney John J. Reeve referred to the visit to the utilities commission in Chicago, when the city and petitioners joined with the company in asking for an early decision, and said that while there was no contract, there was a gentlemen's agreement that this action would result in removal of objections to paving work. He said that the company had expressed a willingness to remove these objections in order not to have a formal order entered in which the commission's findings as to the company's financial status would be shown. He said that the company claimed a property value of $1,085,000 and that the commission did not credit them with having more than actual value of $650,000 and that there was a total indebtedness of $723,000 outstanding against the properties. Mr. Reeve referred to the reluctance the commission had to making the informal finding, expressing at that time the fear that the utility company would use the information in an effort to influence them to change the figures in some way before finally having the order go into effect. The fear had been proven well grounded and the commission had been harassed in one way and another ever since by the company. The city attorney went on to say that the company offered to remove objections to paving if the increased rates were agreed to, whereas there was not the slightest relation between rates and paving.

Mr. Reeve further expressed the view that the company was acting brazenly in going before the commission without the consent and cooperation of the petitioners in the case. Mr. Vasconcellos reported that work is in progress at the north side wells by which it is hoped to increase the water supply available from that source. City Attorney Reeve referred to the claim of Roland Stice, who had his hand crushed at the north side station and said that Mr. Stice had suggested a one payment settlement. This is under consideration and the city attorney will make a recommendation at an early date. Any settlement that is made must have the approval of the industrial board and the law clearly outlines the amount to which Mr. Stice is entitled.

A Warning to Others

Mr. Martin after some explanation made a motion that the license of Walter Patterson, who conducts a billiard room on West Morgan street, be revoked and the amount of his license fee for the unexpired time be returned to him. Mr. Martin said that a number of warnings had been given to the proprietor about observance of the law and that these had been ignored, and that therefore the only way to abate the nuisance was to revoke the license. He said moreover, that there were several other billiard rooms in line for a like action unless the proprietors immediately hastened to comply with the law regulating such places. The council voted unanimously to revoke the license. Mayor Rodgers in the same connection expressed the view that every intoxicated man found on the streets should be arrested. He said occasionally there were cases where it had been deemed best to simply take such men home, but he did not believe that was the best policy and that the more certain way to put an end to drinking was to arrest every intoxicated man found.

Dr. Charles E. Spruit, in Jacksonville for Visit, Tells of Fight Against Hookworm.

Dr. Charles Spruit is here for a few days' visit with his parents, Prof. and Mrs. C. Spruit, and a little later will go to the Spruit farm near Old Mission, Mich., for a few weeks' stay. The past year Dr. Spruit has been an instructor in the medical school at Harvard. He has devoted himself especially to public health work and is expecting to later take a position under the international health board. This organization, which is financed by the Rockefeller foundation, is at present conducting research work especially with reference to the prevalence of the hookworm disease and malaria in tropical countries. Physicians under direction of the board go to cities and villages in tropical countries to make actual observation of disease cases and to give treatment. The general idea behind the work is that these two diseases occur to such an extent in the tropical countries because of the lack of proper sanitary conditions, and the board expects eventually thru the research work and the understanding of disease conditions in the tropics which will result to apply such methods as will be very helpful in the communities visited. It is the belief that much of the lethargy or laziness which is found in tropical countries is the direct result of the diseases which are now being investigated.

The work is very large possibilities and is very interesting to Dr. Spruit who in his preparation has specialized along public health lines. He gained some familiarity with conditions in the tropics when he was in public school work in the Philippines.
